Course Description & Goals

This course explores the stark changes that have occurred in Latin America, at the end of the 20th century until today. We begin our course with an overview of Latin American history and then focus on the military dictatorships that took over several countries starting around the 1970s. Then we will focus on understanding why these authoritarian regimes ended and how countries began a long process of democratization. In this analysis, we will examine the role of political elites and organized citizens in bringing about the end of authoritarianism and shaping the democratic institutions that were created then, including the neoliberal economic policies adopted and their effects.

After analyzing the transition period, we will focus on the so-called 'left turn': what caused it? How did it develop? And what have been its effects? Afterward, we study the Left turn and its effects and conclude with a module thinking about the challenges ahead.

While exploring the region's contemporary political changes, we pay attention to the role of women, indigenous groups, Afrolatinxs, and other marginalized groups in promoting these transformations.

The class uses a combination of theory and case-study analysis. Throughout the semester we will discuss current events and documentaries, and how they are related to the topics discussed.

Learning goals

By the end of this course, students will:

Understand the nature of political change in the last forty years in Latin America

Analyze how the inclusion of gender, race, ethnicity, and class as categories of analysis challenges traditional concepts and theories in Political Science.

Interpret the nature of political change in Latin America and how the adoption of neoliberal policies in the 1980s and 1990 led to the rise of populism in the 2000s.

Minor in Latin American Studies

This course may count towards the minor/certificate in Latin American Studies.

Grading & Assessment

Assignments

Assignment	Points	Due
Current events	15	Any class, three times during the semester
In-class group activities	40	In class, different times during the semester
Exams (3 total)	45 total (15 each)	First exam: Sept. 17 Second Exam: Oct. 15 Third exam: Dec. 3
Total	100

Current events: 15 points

We will begin each class with a discussion of current events in Latin America. Each student should bring news reports related to the topics discussed in class at least three times during the semester. It is not enough to read the headline, you should be able to tell the class the details of the event, the main actors, and analyze how this is connected to the topics we have discussed in class. Please use reliable sources such as:

- PBS
- NPR
- The Conversation

- The New York Times
- The Washington Post
- The BBC (Has great coverage on Latin America and the Caribbean)
- The Guardian
- <http://www.americasquarterly.org/>
- <https://nacla.org>
- The Miami Herald
- Foreign Affairs
- You can also consult newspapers in Spanish, Portuguese or French
- (This list is not extensive and there are other acceptable sources that are not included, you are welcome to use other sources, as long as they are reliable and provide facts)

You can also listen to podcasts specializing in Latin American politics or current events. Some recommendations include:

- The Washington Office in Latin America:
<https://www.wola.org/format/podcast/>
- Americas Society / Council of the Americas
<https://www.as-coa.org/content-type/podcasts>
- El Hilo [en Español] <https://elhilo.audio/episodios/>

Small group, in class activities 40 points (10 points each)

There will be different in-class, small group activities during the semester. The instructions will be provided for each activity. Since the activity will take place during class times, there will be no make up opportunities for these activities.

Reading exams: 45 points

There will be three in-class, closed-book reading exams. These exams will be based on a small set of class readings (i.e. they are non-cumulative) and will test your knowledge of the readings. Each exam will be 15 points. The dates for each exam are:

First exam: Sept. 17
 Second Exam: Oct. 15
 Third exam: Dec. 3

We will have a review session prior to each exam. Make sure you are prepared and bring questions to this session.

Course Policies

Plagiarism and Academic Integrity:

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, "We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment." The Honor Code specifies a number of behaviors that violate this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.

Online Evaluation:

Students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing online evaluations at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu>. Evaluations are typically open during the last two or three weeks of the semester, but students will be given specific times when they are open. Summary results of these assessments are available to students here.

Students with Disabilities

Students with disabilities requesting accommodations should first register with the Disability Resource Center (352-392-8565, www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/) by providing appropriate documentation. Once registered, students will receive an accommodation letter which must be presented to the instructor when requesting accommodation. Students with disabilities should follow this procedure as early as possible in the semester.

Attendance

For successfully passing this course, your participation and engagement are expected. Students must be prepared to discuss the readings and other materials listed for that day. However, if you are sick or have been in contact with someone who is sick please stay home and take care of yourself. Please let your professor know if you are not attending class because of illness. Generally, missing one or two classes during the semester will not affect your performance. However, you should not expect to be allowed to make up for any missing work unless you have an excused absence. If you miss class, you are encouraged to ask your classmates for their notes or come to office hours to talk about the class you missed. Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies that can be found here

Communications

Please let me know of any issues you have with the class or that can be affecting your academic performance. If you have questions, you are encouraged to schedule office hours (Wednesday 1-3 or by appointment). Please use Canvas for all communications with me and your teaching assistant. Please allow 24 hours for us to respond and until Monday if you contact us over the weekend.

Technology

For succeeding in this class, you need to have access to Canvas. Please consult these guides if you are unsure about how to use this application:

For Canvas: <https://elearning.ufl.edu/keep-learning/quickstart-guide-for-students/>

Class Recording

Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor. A “class lecture” is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session. Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To “publish” means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.

Other Recommendations

Masks. The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences emphasizes that, in light of CDC recommendations, face coverings, though not required, are expected in all UF facilities, including your classrooms. Regardless of vaccination status, mask usage is a responsible and vital way of preventing transmission of COVID-19. Faculty may also ask for mask usage in their offices during one-on-one meetings (with a provision for remote office hour meetings as an alternative).

Vaccination. If you have not been vaccinated, please consider starting the process immediately. If you are currently at home, you can obtain a first dose where you are and receive a second dose here in Gainesville. If you are already in Gainesville, you can schedule a vaccination appointment at ONE.UF. Please keep in mind that being vaccinated for COVID-19 is the best way to protect yourself and others from the potentially life-threatening effects of the virus. Your action in this regard may help ensure the health and safety of yourself, your fellow CLAS students, and the faculty and staff with whom you interact.
