Course Overview

This class examines globalization through a political economic lens. We will explore the concepts, causes, processes, and consequences of globalization. While we are learning the substantive contents on globalization, we also pay close attention to how relevant research is done.

Course Objectives

Upon completing this class, students will establish a comprehensive understanding of the major literature on globalization, be able to conduct rigorous research on it and effectively communicate their findings, and acquire skills to engage in informed discussion of globalization-related political matters.

Requirements

No prerequisite is prescribed for now. But it will be of great help if you have already taken introductory IR (INR2001) and the politics of world economy (INR3034).

Two Response Papers: 15% × 2

- You choose weekly readings (any number of them in a given weekly reading assignment) on which you plan to write a response paper.
- You can only write response papers prospectively, i.e., on articles we have Not discussed yet.
- 6 pages (all included, no title page), double-spaced, 12 font, Times Newman, 1' margin, and in-text citation (author-year with bibliographies listed at the end of the main text)
- Due on Canvas via Turnitin submission before the class when the readings on which you choose to write a response paper will be discussed
  - The first response paper has to be submitted as late as before Nov. 10th's class.
- Late submission will be punished with a reduction of 15 points each day the work is overdue.

Hypothesis-testing paper: 25%

- In this paper, you are expected to advance an argument that pertains to globalization and test it using data and statistical analysis (preferably) or case study. More details will be provided throughout the semester.
- The format expectation goes as follows: 15 pages (all included, no title page), double-spaced, 12 font, Times Newman, 1' margin, and in-text citation (author-year with bibliographies listed at the end of the main text)
- Due on Canvas via Turnitin submission
  - Dec. 10th, 2022 on Canvas at 11: 59 pm, est.
  - You also need to submit all the data you have used in your paper.
  - Late submission will be punished with a reduction of 15 points each day the work is overdue.

Weekly Presentation: 25%

- As a group, you are expected to do Two 25-min presentations (including a 5-min Q&A session for each) on articles listed in Group Presentation below throughout the semester. Details on group and article assignments will be sent to you within the first two weeks of the semester.

Participation: 15%

- Regularly participate in class discussion and other types of class activities.
- To effectively participate, you are expected to come to class prepared with finishing all the required readings.

Attendance: 5%

- Attendance will be randomly checked. You will lose all the points for this component if you miss more than three classes (inclusive) without legitimate excuses that are provided in sufficient advance.

Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies. Click here for university policies.

Individual extra-credit work will not be allowed.

Grading Scheme

Your final cumulative score will be converted to a letter grade using the following scheme:
93.4 or higher = A; 90–93.3 = A-; 86.7–89.9 = B+; 83.4–86.6 = B; 80–83.3 = B-; 76.7–79.9 = C+; 73.4–76.6 = C; 70–73.3 = C-; 66.7–69.9 = D+; 63.4–66.6 = D; 60–63.3 = D-; <60 = E.

12/06 Wrap-up

General Policies and Guidelines

Students Requiring Accommodations

Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the disability Resource Center by visiting <https://disability.ufl.edu/students/get-started/>. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.

Course Evaluation

Students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing online evaluations at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/>. Evaluations are typically open during the last two or three weeks of the semester, but students will be given specific times when they are open. Summary results of these assessments are available to students at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/>.

Class Demeanor

Students are expected to arrive to class on time and behave in a manner that is respectful to the instructor and to fellow students. Please avoid the use of cell phones and restrict eating to outside of the classroom. Opinions held by other students should be respected in Presentation, and conversations that do not contribute to the Presentation should be held at minimum, if at all. Materials and Supplies Fees There are no additional fees for this course.

University Honesty Policy

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” The Honor Code (<https://www.dso.ufl.edu/scer/process/student-conducthonor-code/>) specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.

Counseling and Wellness Center

Contact information for the Counseling and Wellness Center: <http://www.counseling.ufl.edu/cwc/Default.aspx>, 392-1575; and the University Police Department: 392-1111 or 9-1-1 for emergencies.

Recording

Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited.

Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor.

A “class lecture” is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To “publish” means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.
