INTRODUCTORY STATEMENT

This survey course is designed to examine several categories of enduring and emerging civil liberties granted to each person by the United States Constitution. The major purpose of this survey course is to investigate the role and functions of courts, especially the United States Supreme Court, in addressing major interpretive/enforcement issues concerning the role of civil liberties in America today. Additionally, we shall explore and assess the interconnected relationship of the Judicial, Legislative, and Executive branches of federal and state government during the semester. Students seeking a more in-depth exposure to purely legal/jurisprudence aspects of civil liberties should locate and take separate criminal justice, and/or constitutional law courses.

Note: This syllabus is a general outline of the course, but is subject to change. I will let you know if modifications are made.

GENERAL EDUCATIONAL REQUIREMENTS AND OBJECTIVES

The course fulfills the General Education requirements for the Gordon Rule requirement. This means that the major writing assignments will amount to a total of 6000+ words and that students will receive feedback so they can improve their writing skills.

Upon completing the course, students will:

1. Learn about the historical, political-social justice impact of civil liberty issues;

2. Be able to describe/appreciate the roles and responsibilities of all levels of courts in the management and/or resolution of civil liberty policy conflict and implementation challenges;
3. Be able to analyze the nature, limitations, power, and capacity of the United States Supreme Court to shape, define, and address evolving civil liberty concerns; and
4. Be able to appreciate/examine the interconnecting and/or sometimes conflicting roles of various components of the justice system, media, interest groups, and society, as they each seek to guide, influence, and impact the evolution of civil liberties in this country.

REQUIRED READINGS AND MATERIALS

Barker and Barker, Civil Liberties and the Constitution, 9th Ed., (Prentice-Hall, 2010). (latest/most current edition is also acceptable)

O'Brien, David. Storm Center. The Supreme Court in American Politics, 11th Ed., (Norton), 2017 (latest/most current edition is also acceptable)

Articles will be assigned throughout the semester as well. Students will be expected to access those readings online, by using the UF library catalog, via Canvas, or through a hard copy.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

1. Each student will complete all required reading assignments and brief all assigned cases prior to each class meeting, AND be prepared to fully and cogently discuss the cases/readings at the next class.
2. Each student will be expected to read and thoroughly digest the Articles and the Amendments to the United States Constitution.
3. There will be two (2) major examinations: a cumulative Midterm and a cumulative Final Exam. These Exams will only be given during the semester.
4. There will be several announced and unannounced quizzes during the semester. These focus quizzes cannot be made up or taken again.
5. There may be one class project during the semester. Each student will be required to participate and/or submit the project on time.

6. Short (12 pages) and long (27 pages) research papers will be assigned during the semester. Each research paper must be turned in on time, or there will be a corresponding full letter grade reduction earned by the research paper for each calendar day the paper is late, OR the paper may NOT be accepted at all.
7. Due to the nature of the course, class attendance and participation are mandatory and will count toward your final grade. There will be a heavy emphasis on student-professor interchange, as well as facilitated class discussions where we will learn from one another. Hence, you must be present to participate and learn.
8. Class participation/attendance, assigned research papers, (class project[s]), quizzes, etc. will reflect 40% of the student's final grade; the midterm will count for 25%; while the cumulative Final Examination will comprise 35% of the total grade in this course. See <https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/grades-grading-policies/> for current University of Florida grading policies.
9. Each student has the individual responsibility to read, comprehend, and fully comply with all procedural requirements of the course as listed in the Course Syllabus.
10. Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Students have the responsibility to research and locate when the evaluation period opens. Each student must complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals.

GRADE PERCENTAGE BREAKDOWN

Percentage of Final Grade	Description
18%	Participation/ Attendance
10%	Research Paper(s)
8%	Class Project(s)
4%	In- Class Quizzes/ Assignments
25%	Cumulative Midterm Exam
35%	Cumulative Final Exam

WRITING REQUIREMENT

All assignments should be:

- Written in standard English and demonstrates competence in capitalization, grammar, sentence structure, and paragraph structure
- Typed with Times New Roman, 12 pt. Font 1" margins
- Information with your name, date, and course should be on the first page only or on a cover page.
- All work must be properly documented. Students may use APA, MLA, Turabian, etc.

I will provide feedback on written assignments; these comments are intended to strengthen your writing skills. I will evaluate clarity, content, structure, and sources.

Gordon Rule: "The Writing Requirement (Gordon Rule) ensures students both maintain their fluency in writing and use writing as a tool to facilitate learning." This is a Gordon Rule course with a 6000+ word writing requirement. Your writing will be evaluated, and you will receive feedback on assignments that are intended to fulfill this writing requirement. You will be evaluated based on grammar, punctuation, clarity, coherence, organization, and sources.

To receive Writing Requirement credit, a student must receive a grade of C or higher and a satisfactory completion of the writing component of the course.

ATTENDANCE POLICY AND CLASS EXPECTATIONS

While I will not take attendance every class meeting day, we will have regular assignments that you may not make up. Moreover, major quizzes, the midterm, and the final will cover both lectures and readings, and it is common for material in lectures not to come from readings. In short, if you miss class regularly you will likely fail. Excused absences must be consistent with university policies in the Undergraduate Catalog.

During class, students are expected both to silence phones and to refrain from using them. Laptops may be used for taking notes or other activities directly related to class.

ZOOM PRIVACY CONSENT STATEMENT (If & When Applicable)

Our class sessions MAY HAVE to be audio/visually recorded at the request or requirement of the University if a pandemic need arises. Students who participate with their cameras engaged or utilize a profile image are agreeing to have their video or image recorded. If you are unwilling to consent to have your profile or video recorded, be sure to keep your camera off and do not use a profile image. Likewise, students who unmute during class and participate orally agree to have their voices recorded. If you are not willing to consent to have your voice recorded during class, you will need to keep your mute button activated and communicate exclusively using the “chat” feature, which allows students to type questions and comments live. The chat will not be recorded or shared. As in all University courses, unauthorized recording and unauthorized sharing of recorded material is strictly prohibited.

CLASS RECORDINGS

Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor.

A “class lecture” is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To “publish” means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.

ACCOMMODATIONS FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Students with disabilities, of any kind, who experience learning barriers or challenges, and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the Disability Resource Center (DRC) by visiting our Get Started page. It is important for students to share and discuss their verified need for various accommodations, along with their accommodation letter from DRC, as soon/early as possible with their professor.

AI/SUPPLEMENTS: EXPRESSLY FORBIDDEN

Any use, reference, inclusion, or reliance upon ChatGPT, Google BARD, Chatsonic, Microsoft Bing Chat, Github Copilot, Fusion Chat, YouChat, Law ChatGPT, Clearbrief, Case Text, any known or subsequently developed artificial intelligence (AI) supplements, as well as any similar type of unauthorized AI writing or research assistance/supplements, not mentioned here OR that may be invented during the semester, are EXPRESSLY prohibited and forbidden for use in this course. Any use, inclusion, indication, or infusion of any material from all of these or similar sources, will be viewed and considered by the professor as a class violation, and the offending student shall be immediately assessed for disciplinary action. Finally, the ability to remain in this course during the semester will be determined by the professor and University.

ACADEMIC HONESTY

University policy requires that we remind you of the commonsense values embodied in the University Honor Code. We assume that you are all familiar with the policy on academic honesty. If you are not, it is included below:

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” The Conduct Code specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.

A student cannot use unauthorized materials or resources in any academic activity for academic advantage or benefit. Cheating includes but is not limited to:

1. Using any materials or resources prepared by another student without the other student’s express consent or without proper attribution to the other student.
2. Using any materials or resources, through any medium, which the faculty has not given express permission to use and that may confer an academic benefit to the student.
3. Using additional time, or failing to stop working when instructed, on any time-bound academic activity.
4. Failing to follow the directions of a proctor of any academic activity, when such conduct could lead to an academic advantage or benefit.
5. Collaborating with another person, through any medium, on any academic activity, when faculty has expressly prohibited collaboration.

Plagiarizing the work of others or of online documents is a sign of inadequate character and unnecessary insecurity about one’s ability.
